

Commitment to Dog Meets World, Inc.

I acknowledge that I am acquiring a Foto™ dog in order to voluntarily participate in the photo diplomacy project sponsored by Dog Meets World, Inc. (hereafter referred to as DMW) , a nonprofit tax-exempt organization. As a condition to participation in the project, I agree to adhere to the following guidelines and restrictions:

- (1) All photographs taken for DMW will be of a wholesome nature that serves to enrich the lives of the people who see them. No unclothed person or those with suggestive or lewd clothing or poses or gestures will be photographed.
- (2) All photographs will serve to exemplify those higher qualities of human interaction that reflect what is good and honorable in us all and are consistent with the stated mission and goals of the DMW organization.

I understand that I will retain ownership of and all copyright protections under applicable law for the photographs I take. With respect to all photographs I submit to DMW, I grant to DMW the right, exercisable in its sole discretion, to determine which of those photos it will display on the dogmeetsworld.org website or Facebook page. I also grant to DMW the exclusive right to use and publish any photographs I submit to them, whether on DMW's website, in materials prepared for marketing purposes, in other published materials or books, or in any other way they may determine will support the tax-exempt purposes for which DMW was established. I grant all these rights without expectation of payment by DMW of any royalty fees or other compensation.

I understand that participating in DMW is a volunteer activity and I agree to absolve and release DMW from any and all liability for any damages or injury, of whatever nature and from whatever cause, that I may incur while or as a result of engaging in activities pursuant to this project.

By purchasing a Foto™ dog, I agree to all of the statements and provisions set forth above.
